Significant events in the second quarter of 2015

Notice of the Annual General Meeting was published on the Company's website in April. The Annual General Meeting was held at Medicon Village on 22 May 2015 and a report from the AGM was published on the same date. At the AGM a resolution was adopted authorising the Board of Directors to decide on the issuance of new shares, on one or several occasions, during the period until the next Annual General Meeting. In April Cantargia published its annual report for the financial year 2014. The annual report is available for download at the Company's website, www.cantargia.com.

In May Cantargia announced that the Company had received notice that the European Patent Office (EPO) had issued an "intention to grant" for Cantargia's patent application for IL1RAP as a target molecule for antibody therapy and leukemia diagnostics. Intention to grant essentially means that the EPO is likely to approve the patent application. Before final notice of approval can be received, however, further actions will be required by both parties.

On 1 June 2015 Lars Thorsson took up the position of Vice President Clinical Development at Cantargia. Before joining Cantargia Lars Thorsson worked at Novo Nordisk A/S, where he held the role of Senior Clinical Pharmacology Scientist with responsibility for preparation and implementation of clinical pharmacological studies in development projects.

In June Cantargia received a non-exclusive license to use BioWa's POTELLIGENT® technology platform for production of its CAN04 drug candidate. BioWa Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Kyowa Hakko Kirin Co., Ltd., a leading Japanese pharmaceutical company.

Significant events after the end of the period

At the beginning of July Cantargia announced that the Company had concluded an agreement with Glycotope Biotechnology GmbH for production of Cantargia's CAN04 drug candidate. Glycotope Biotechnology will be responsible for process development and manufacture in accordance with good manufacturing practices and will produce CAN04 for use in future toxicological studies as well as clinical trials.

In August the respected international journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America (PNAS) published a scientific article on the use of Cantargia's antibodies in preclinical models of acute myeloid leukemia (AML). The article, entitled "Antibodies targeting human IL1RAP (IL1R3) show therapeutic effects in xenograft models of acute myeloid leukemia", documents that Cantargia's antibodies targeted at IL1RAP have a potent antitumour effect in preclinical models of AML.

CEO Göran Forsberg comments:

Looking back at the second quarter of 2015, I would like to take this opportunity to summarise what happened in Cantargia over the period.

As of 1 June we have a new member of staff, Lars Thorsson. Now Cantargia's Vice President Clinical Development, Lars will be very valuable to the Company, as he has extensive knowledge and long experience of clinical studies and project management.

In May we received notice that our patent application for IL1RAP as a target molecule for antibody therapy and leukemia diagnostics had received an intention to grant notification from the European Patent Office. This is of course very good news, as we continue to work consistently to strengthen the protection of our intellectual property rights. We currently have three patent families in order to ensure a strong protection for our product candidate, CAN04.

During the summer we also signed two important agreements – one with BioWa Inc. concerning licensing of POTELLIGENT® and one with Glycotope Biotechnology GmbH concerning production of CAN04. By using BioWa's technology platform, CAN04 can be produced with significantly higher potency than would normally be possible in other standard production systems. POTELLIGENT® will be a very important tool for increasing the antitumour activity of CAN04 and for establishing a state-of-the-art production process. Glycotope Biotechnology will be responsible for process development and manufacture in accordance with good manufacturing practices and will produce CAN04 for use in future toxicological studies as well as clinical trials. We look forward to working with these two companies, which will be important cornerstones for the continued development of CAN04.

In August we were proud to announce that a scientific article on the use of Cantargia's antibodies, written by the research team behind Cantargia, had been published in the highly respected journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America. The article shows that Cantargia's antibodies targeted at IL1RAP have a potent antitumour effect in preclinical models of AML. The results show clearly that an antibody targeted at IL1RAP functions in two independent ways, partly by stimulating the immune system's "NK cells" to kill cancer cells and partly by blocking the signalling via IL1RAP. In addition to the confirmation and recognition which the Company receives through an article of this type, our confidence in CAN04 as an attractive target molecule for treatment of different forms of cancer is further strengthened.

Göran Forsberg CEO, Cantargia AB

Cantargia AB

Cantargia was founded in 2009/2010 by Lund University Bioscience AB, Professor Thoas Fioretos, Dr Marcus Järås and Innovagen AB. Cantargia is developing an antibody-based cancer treatment which attacks mature cancer cells as well as cancer stem cells – the root of the disease. The Company has selected and applied for a patent for a product candidate (named CAN04), targeted at IL1RAP, which has a specific and strong bind to leukemia stem cells and mature cancer cells. In preclinical studies the antibody has been shown to have two potential mechanisms of action which complement each other: it helps the immune system's killer cells to identify and attack the source of the disease, and it blocks the signals from the target molecule, preventing the cancer cells from spreading. In 2015 Cantargia will be conducting further studies and developing a production method in preparation for the start of clinical studies in 2016.

Business model

Cantargia's business model is based on seeking partnerships (such as licensing) for CAN04 after proof of concept in clinical studies (phase I/IIa) that are designed to document both safety and initial signals of antitumour effect. Partnerships with established players in the pharmaceutical industry, which have the resources for and experience of major clinical studies, will promote effective and professional development and the launch of pharmaceutical drugs. Cantargia's intention is thus to conduct all development activities, including clinical studies, in-house until the end of 2017, when the clinical phase I/IIa study is expected to be concluded. The Board is open to doing this in collaboration with a potential partner, provided that this is deemed to add value.
